

European discussion list: EQ-UNI - European Network on Gender Equality in Higher Education

The European Network on Gender Equality in Higher Education was created as a result of the First European Conference on Gender Equality in Higher Education, organised in Helsinki, Finland in 1998, and hosted by the University of Helsinki.

Since the Helsinki conference, the European Network has facilitated organising eight European Conferences on Gender Equality in Higher Education across Europe: Zürich (2000), Genoa (2003), Oxford (2005), Berlin (2007), Stockholm (2009), Bergen (2012), Vienna (2014) and Paris (2016). All conferences have been organised as a collaboration of several national stakeholders, and gathered hundreds of participants.

In addition to the conferences, the European Network is mainly connected through the listserv eq-uni, created in 1999. Eq-uni is an information and discussion list on gender equality in higher education and research. It is open for all interested in the topic area: researchers, gender equality advisers and other practitioners, administrators, academic leaders, policy makers and students, in Europe and beyond. The list has currently 600 subscribers from over 30 countries.

The purpose of the list is to discuss and share information on gender equality in higher education and research in Europe and beyond. The emphasis of the list is on identifying strategies and good practices for the enhancement of gender equality in higher education and research. Information on relevant events, policy developments, new publications, calls for papers and calls for collaboration, as well as information requests are welcome.

The list owner is the University of Helsinki, Finland, and the moderators of the list are Liisa Husu and Timo Valtonen. All messages sent to the list go through moderation.
