

CALL FOR PAPERS

THE NORDIC SOCIETY FOR PHENOMENOLOGY / Nordisk Selskab for Fænomenologi / holds its 9th annual conference at the University of Iceland in Reykjavík, 28-30 April 2011, under the general theme:

PHENOMENOLOGY IN TIMES OF CRISIS

Invited keynote speakers:

JÓHANN PÁLL ÁRNASON (LaTrobe University, Melbourne and Charles University, Prague)

HILGE LANDWEER (Freie Universität Berlin)

DAN ZAHAVI (University of Copenhagen)

CHARLOTTA WEIGELT (Södertörn University College, Stockholm)

We hereby announce a call for papers on new research in the area of phenomenology, phenomenological philosophy and related philosophical disciplines. We welcome proposals from senior researchers as well as from graduate students.

The accepted papers will be presented in parallel sessions (maximum 20 minutes, with 10 minutes for discussion). Please submit your proposal in the form of a suggested title and an abstract (maximum 200 words).

We welcome suggestions for joint panels on current topics and recently published books.

Proposals should be sent to Björn Thorsteinsson at bjorntho@hi.is.

Deadline for submission: 15 November 2010.

Note that if you are not already a member, you need to register for membership in order to have your proposal considered. Membership is free of charge. Just send an email with information about your affiliation to jussi.backman@helsinki.fi.

The Nordic Society for Phenomenology was founded in 2001. Its aim is to further dialogue and cooperation between philosophers working in the phenomenological tradition in the Nordic countries and to promote scholarship, teaching, research, and publication in phenomenology and affiliated theoretical disciplines. The executive committee consists of one representative from each Nordic country. At present its members are Sara Heinämaa (Finland, president), Dan Zahavi (Denmark), Björn Thorsteinsson (Iceland), Camilla Serck-Hanssen (Norway), and Hans Ruin (Sweden).

For those interested, it should be pointed out that a day-long conference on Hannah Arendt's philosophy of politics will be held at the University of Iceland, organised by EDDA Center of Excellence and Goethe Institut, immediately before the NoSP conference, i.e. on 27 April. Confirmed speakers include Dieter Thomae and Susanne Lettow. A full list of speakers will be sent out later. For more information, contact sigrthor@hi.is.
