

Science for Sustainability PROGRAMME 2025

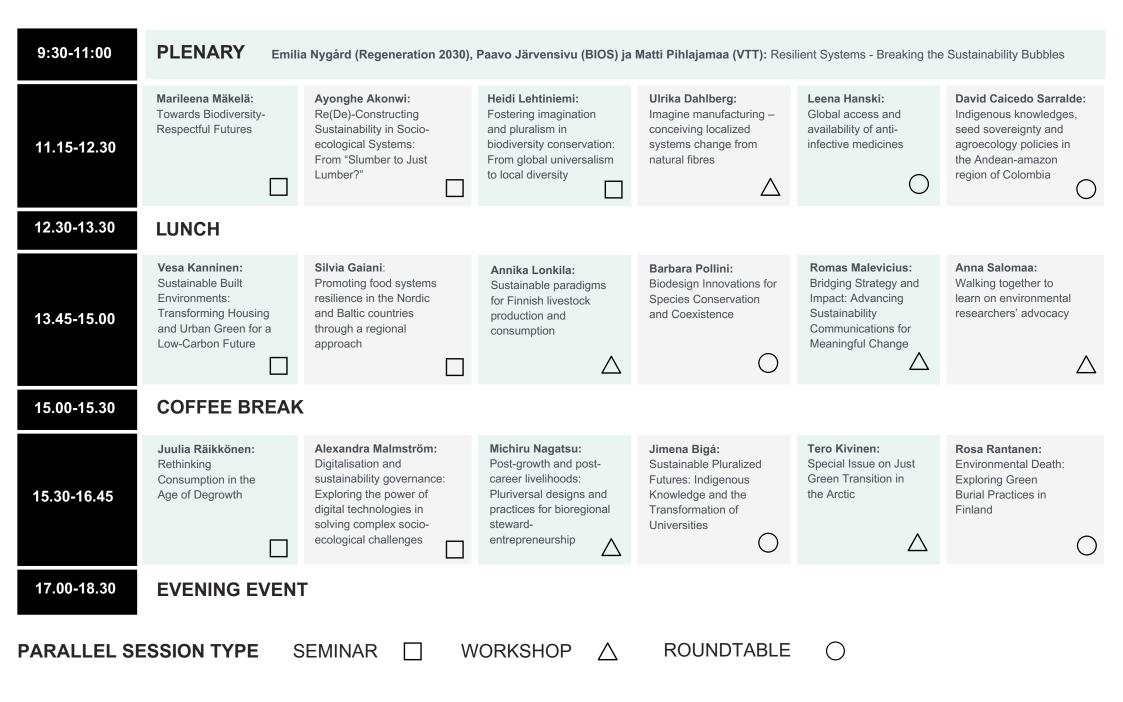

WEDNESDAY 1.10.2025

THURSDAY 2.10.2025

9:30-10:45	Satu Teerikangas: Sustainability agency – Exploring actors and their agency in shaping sustainable futures	Joonas Uotinen: Legitimate public policies: Promoting well-being and ecological sustainability	Rasmus Sihvonen: What is enough? – Approaching the sufficiency transformation 'inside-out' by discussing our lived experiences	Sini Holopainen: Beyond the Growth Bubble: Media, Narratives, and the Transition to Sustainable Futures	Milla Unkila: Bursting the bubble for real - the civilisation will collapse	Dhanay Cadillo Chandler: Envisaging collaboration for sustainable innovation: Pushing the boundaries through law and governance
11.00-12.00	DIALOGUE	Angele Alook (York University) and Bonn Juego (University of Jyväskylä): Global Cooperation and Sustainability Visions
12.00-13.00	LUNCH
13.15-14.30	Aino Kangaspuro- Haaparanta: Awakening a sustainable mediatechnological relationship – ecomaterial perspectives on the media society	Kristiina Patja: Medicalization: Sacred or Sacrificial? Understanding the Sacred in Medicine for a Sustainable Healthcare System	Johanna Ahola- Launonen: Harmful hopes and deceptive optimism – how to imagine hope that can disrupt the status quo?	Julia Valle Noronha: Back to the Future: Harnessing Traditional and Indigenous Knowledge for Sustainable Innovation	Anahita Rashidfarokhi: Breaking Silos: Advancing Interdisciplinary Research Processes in Sustainability Science
14.30-15.00	COFFEE BREAK
15.00-15.20	KEYNOTE	Pauliina Damdimopoulou (Karolinska Institute)
15.30-16.45	Long Xie: Bursting the greening bubble: Building multispecies connectivity in urban areas for indigenous species	Mina Zare-Lahti: Smart and functional biobased materials in healthcare	Iryna Herzon: Deliberating sustainable place of livestock within consumption corridors	Beata Mäihäniemi: Degrowth and digitalisation, laying foundations for a new regulatory approach to platform economy	Laura Kallio: Lack of motivation for individuals to make sustainable choices? Find the enormous potential of individuals	