Community of bold thinkers

At Aalto University, science and art meet technology and business. We are building an innovative society through high-quality research, teaching and artistic activity.
Our task is to identify and solve major challenges facing society at large.

The key areas of research help to make Finland more competitive, produce wellbeing and promote the creation of new innovations.
Univ Helsinki is our best friend

Both are national leaders in their research areas
Research areas nicely complement each other
Together we are an internationally significant player
